Core Curriculum For Otorhinolaryngology and Head-Neck Nursing - 2nd Edition

This text is designed to be used by ORL-HN nurses. The book provides an overview of all aspects of nursing practice for the patient with an otolaryngologic problem or abnormality. It provides a foundation of knowledge for generalist and advanced practice nurses working in every ORL-HN practice setting. In addition, it serves as a basic text for students, nurses, administrators and nurse educators.

Dear SOHN
Colleagues,

The 34th Annual Congress & Nursing Symposium, Revolutionary Practice in ORL Nursing, is rapidly approaching! The setting is absolutely perfect as we meet in Boston for a superb slate of speakers and presentations, entertainment, relaxation, renewing friendships, showcasing our regional and local chapters and electing officers for the organization. The candidates are pictured in this Update along with a summary of educational background and substantial contributions to the nursing profession. Each candidate provides a position statement and what they have to aid in accomplishing SOHN's mission and vision for the future.

We have so many qualified and able nurse candidates offering their expertise and time to SOHN. What are the advantages to becoming a leader in a nursing organization and what does it take to be successful? According to Shinn (2002), there are many possibilities for professional and personal growth by becoming leaders in a specialty nursing organization such as SOHN. A nurse's leadership skills are often formed before adulthood. Were you a captain of a sports team or leader of a group in a church or school (Vestal, 2010)? During that time, you as a leader may have led by instinct but quickly learned what worked and what was not so successful. The decision to seek an elected leadership role in any organization should be a well thought out process (Shinn). Any elected position requires time, energy and hard work! SOHN is fortunate to have a strong executive director and support staff.

Campaigning for a position in SOHN is not a costly adventure or significant time commitment. However, candidates still need to convince the membership that they are a qualified leader able to move the organization forward. As stated by Shinn (2002), it is apparent that recognizing a candidate's "talent, experience and leadership style" rather than length of time in the organization is what really matters to the membership (p. 616).

The election of SOHN officers and board of directors is a staggered process so that all positions are not changed at one time. The staggered nature of our leadership allows for mentoring. Newly elected members are usually unaware of the numerous policies and procedures plus complex decision making that occurs at the leadership level (Shinn, 2002). A detailed orientation is provided to newly elected members at the beginning of their term during the Midwinter Board Meeting along with mentoring and coaching.

When we elect our officers and board in September keep in mind that SOHN needs champions to lead and embrace change in the healthcare environment. I would challenge each of you to examine your talents, skills and interest in leadership and consider volunteering for a committee, officer in your local chapter and active participation in SOHN!

Have a great summer and see you in September!!

Sincerely,

Cindy J. Dawson

The Best of Boston: Top Ten Things To Do

1. Walk the Freedom Trail, a 2.5-mile walk around Boston that takes in 16 historic locations to piece together the story of the city's role in the American Revolution. Among the famous sites pass The Old South Meeting House, where it is thought the Boston Tea Party originated

2. New England Aquarium: The Aquarium offers tank after tank of aquatic life, both salt- and freshwater. As you walk into this world-class aquarium, one of the world's largest salt-water tanks looms before you. This 200,000 gallon monster holds sharks, sea turtles, and thousands of smaller fish. A ramp spirals upward around the tank. The top is open; ask for a schedule so you don't miss the daily sea turtle feeding.

3. Faneuil Hall Marketplace incorporates Quincy Market, North Market and South Market and is a 250-year-old meeting place on the Freedom Trail, packed with shops, stalls and eateries.

4. Shop Newbury Street – Boston's most enchanting street. Eight blocks filled with salons, boutiques and fabulous dining. The entire street and surrounding areas is a shopper's paradise, from high-end names to bargains at Filene's Basement. Filene's Basement is one of the Boston's landmarks. Since 1908 the store has been helping shoppers score deals on designer clothes. Be prepared to dig through bins of clothing to find the treasures you've dreamt of.

5. Visit the USS Constitution, launched in 1797 making this the oldest commissioned warship afloat in the world today.

6. Duck Tours: The famous Boston Duck Tours are an entertaining way to see the highlights of the Freedom Trail if you don't feel like walking. Your tour guide and operator will point out key historical locations as you roll through the streets of Boston in an amphibious World War II vehicle. These custom-made vessels can travel on both land and water. Towards the end of the 80-minute tour - surprise - the vessel rolls down a ramp and into the Charles River. Some guides will even allow passengers to pilot the vehicle while it's on water.

7. Paul Revere's House. On the night of April 18, 1775, silversmith Paul Revere left his small wooden home in Boston's North End and set out on a journey that would make him into a legend. Today that home is still standing at 19 North Square and has become a national historic landmark. It is downtown Boston's oldest building and one of the few remaining from an early era in the history of colonial America.

8. Drink in the Samuel Adams Brewery Tour. The Samuel Adams Boston Brewery is, thanks to the free tasting at the tour's end, one of America's favorite factory tours. If you prefer to do your Boston imbibing in an actual bar, stop in at Cheers, aka the Bull and Finch Pub, where you will recognize the exterior from the classic TV show "Cheers."

9. Take a walk through Boston Common. The Public Garden was the first botanical garden in the United States. If the weather is nice, make sure you take a swan boat ride. See if you can locate the George Washington Statue and The Make Way for the Ducklings Statutes.

10. Boston's museums are as good as any you'll find in the world, and the most visited one is the Museum of Science at Science Park. It has more than 400 interactive exhibits including — the Virtual Fish Tank, an IMAX theater and a planetarium.

Nursing in Ascendancy: Are We Ready to be Accountable for Leading Health Care Reform?

Diana J. Mason, RN, PhD, FAAN, DHL (Hon)

Diana J. Mason, RN, PhD, FAAN, DHL (Hon.), is the Rudin Professor of Nursing at the Hunter College-Bellevue

School of Nursing of the City University of New York, where she directs a Center for Health, Media, and Policy. For over 10 years, she served as Editor-in-Chief of the American Journal of Nursing, and continues in an emeritus capacity. During her tenure there, she developed numerous grant-funded projects to produce and disseminate cutting edge information on a variety of topics, including a print and video series on nursing care of older adults (funded by Atlantic Philanthropies), a print series on palliative nursing (Robert Wood Johnson Foundation) and chronic kidney disease (National Kidney Foundation), and a series of articles and videos on assessing older adults (The John A. Hartford Foundation). Under her leadership, the journal received numerous awards for editorial excellence, editorials, articles, news, and dissemination, culminating in 2009 in the journal being selected by the Specialized Libraries Association as one of the 100 most influential journals of the century in biology and medicine—the only nursing journal to be selected for this distinction.

Since 1986, she has been one of the Producers and Moderators of “Healthstyles,” a weekly, live radio program in New York City that has received media awards from the State of New York, Public Health Association of New York City, American Academy of Nursing, and the National Association of Childbearing Centers. Dr. Mason is the lead co-editor of the award-winning book, Policy and Politics in Nursing and Health Care, now in its fifth edition. Since 2006, she has served as Secretary for the American Academy of Nursing and chair of its Raise The Voice Campaign, an initiative funded by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation for identifying and making visible to policymakers and journalists the innovative models of care and interventions developed by nurses that can help to transform health care in the U.S.

Stand Up for Haiti

Joia Mukherjee MD MPH – Medical Director, Partners in Health

A physician and leading public health activist, Dr. Joia Mukherjee is chief medical officer for Partners in Health, delivering health care in rural Haiti and eight other nations. PIH has been at the center of medical relief efforts following Haiti’s January earthquake, and Mukherjee has made many visits to Haiti following her arrival the day after the quake. She also helped establish PIH’s program in rural Haiti to treat patients with HIV infection using highly active antiretroviral therapy. This program has become a model for the World Health Organization and other global AIDS initiatives. Mukherjee teaches social medicine and infectious diseases at Harvard Medical School and is an attending physician at Brigham & Women’s Hospital and Massachusetts General Hospital.

Qualifications for this Position:

- Member of SOHN 15 yrs
- Speaker for SOHN
- Course Director: ORL Review Course
- Advance Practice Nurse, CORLN
- Board of Directors, Education Committee

Position Statement:

I am applying for nomination to the Vice President position on the Executive Board of SOHN. As a past MWBM guest attendee and now as a member of the Board, I have had the opportunity to see leadership up close and personal. This has also given me the opportunity to be mentored by the very best ORL nurses.

I have been a member in SOHN since 1995. I have actively participated in the meetings first as an attendee and then became a speaker. I have practiced in the specialty of ENT as a RN and now as an adult NP. I am board certified by ANCC as an adult NP and by SOHN as a CORLN. I participate on the BOD and I coordinate the ORL Review Course. I have had the opportunity to speak on many Adult ORL issues in the past. I am very excited to share my expertise and knowledge in ENT with my colleagues. I see serving as the Vice President as an opportunity to further serve my specialty and continue moving ORL Nursing into the future.

If elected to the Vice President position, I promise to work to strengthen and grow SOHN on a national level. The Cleveland Chapter is close to my heart and I would like to bring my experiences as leader back to the local level. I would like to give back to SOHN members what has been given to me: friendship, networking, knowledge, and excellence in ORL nursing. Mentoring nurses who will be the future of SOHN just as I was mentored.

Qualifications for this Position:

Acting SOHN Cleveland Chapter secretary 2009 -2010, active member of SOHN and active in nursing.

Position Statement:

The field of Otolaryngology is a diverse, fascinating field. A field that I have found personally rewarding and professionally motivating. I enjoy keeping busy and find myself always looking for new professional and personal challenges. The field of vestibular medicine has been a very wonderful learning experience. It continues to be a source of motivation and continued learning opportunities. Other subspecialties in ENT nursing also provide important learning experiences. With currently serving as Cleveland Chapter SOHN secretary it has reinforced my conviction of the importance of representation and education for practicing SOHN members. The opportunities are abundant to further promote our profession and continue to educate and promote patient safety and education issues. I would be honored to be awarded the opportunity to serve on the Board of Directors for SOHN.

Sigma Theta Tau - Recently inducted as a member.

South Carolina Cancer Alliance – Recently appointed head and neck cancer liaison and working with members to develop head and neck cancer initiatives for the residents of South Carolina to include the first ever, head and neck nurse navigator within the state of South Carolina.

Qualifications for this Position:

As a dedicated Head and Neck Oncology Nurse, I feel that I am more than qualified to join the SOHN Board of Directors. I have spent my entire nursing career, working to improve the lives of head and neck cancer patients. I have organized and led local and international efforts to raise awareness and improve preventative measures for oral cancer, including local screening events and educational opportunities for our youth and local community members.

I joined the Oncology Nursing Society as a student nurse and have continued to be an active member locally and nationally. I have served on the board of my local chapter for the past four years in many different roles. Since the inception of the Lowcountry SOHN Chapter, I have been just as dedicated and driven to remain active to this professional organization. I have served as President of my local chapter and have recently assumed the role of Chair of the Nominating Committee. I continue to plan and organize educational opportunities for our local Chapter and have brainstormed innovative ways to improve opportunities and benefits of a SOHN membership.

As my career and dedication to this field of nursing evolves, I hope that you will consider me for the position of Board of Directors.

Position Statement:

If elected to the Board of Directors, I hope to bring a unique perspective to our already impressive Board. As a board member, my goals would include improving the quality of life for head and neck cancer patients and the practice of the dedicated body of nurses caring for them. It is my hope that through education, prevention, and advanced nurse training opportunities, SOHN can accomplish this goal.

Additionally, I plan to improve the benefits and opportunities of a SOHN membership. It is my personal goal as Chair of the Membership Enhancement Committee to increase membership, offering incentives for the recruitment of established nurses and those in training. It is my thought that we will secure the future of ORL nursing by reaching out to our new generation of nurses, providing mentorship opportunities, and an opportunity to contribute to our specialty.

I welcome the challenge and look forward to the opportunity to serve as a member of your Board of Directors.

- Magnolia SOHN conference planning committee
- Head and Neck Cancer Alliance Board Member 2009-2010
- Screening Director for Darlington Southern 500

Qualifications for this position:

I have served in Board positions before and was the founding president of the Lowcountry Chapter of SOHN. I have experience in leadership roles including management of the Peri-anesthesia unit at the Medical University of South Carolina and have been active in my local chapter and also in the Head and Neck Cancer Alliance for the last four years. My passion is educating the public about head and neck cancer including middle school presentations about the dangers of smoking and drinking.

Position Statement:

My passion is educating the public about the signs and symptoms of head and neck cancer. More education of the public and medical communities is needed so that we can diagnose earlier and hopefully someday improve our survival rate for this devastating disease. I would be honored to serve on the Nominating Committee because qualified and dedicated leadership is the key to a great society which leads to better education and awareness.

NCBOHN Notes: Recertify By Continuing Education

Recertifying your CORLN credential by continuing education can often be a daunting experience. However, with proper planning and excellent resources the path to renewal can be smooth and rewarding. Here are some useful tips:

Step 1: Start early. You have 5 years to accumulate 100 contact hours in ORL nursing.

Step 2: Keep an ongoing and accurate record of courses you have taken. A dedicated file for your certificates is an excellent idea.

Step 3: Remember you can obtain 15 hours from CME offerings.

You can write an article for the journal and receive 5 points (once in a five year period) and presentations at SOHN national meetings are worth 5 points each (10 points in a 5 year period).

Step 4: The SOHN annual meetings, spring meetings and local chapter offerings are excellent sources of continuing education.

Step 5: If you are unable to attend SOHN meetings, consider the many web sites that offer continuing education. Browse through sites listed below.

Step 6: Important to remember: Each contact hour must directly relate to Ear, Nose and Throat and Head-Neck nursing practice. Use your original NCBOHN handbook outline as a guide for subject matter. Continuing education in CPR, ACLS courses, basic cancer courses, or education in any other specialty does not apply to your renewal. Renewal by continuing education is offered as an alternative to retesting. It is critical to maintain the integrity of the CORLN credential by taking courses (instructor-led or on-line) that will improve your practice.

Step 7: Celebrate your achievement. Congratulations CORLN!
